Outreach Offerings

Grades K-6

What's in a duet?: Interacting through music

Les Sirènes' elementary level outreach lesson takes music from our current tour program and incorporates it into an interactive lesson for the students. Adapted for grade level, the activities guide students through the concepts of what a duet is and how a story is being told through music in a foreign language.

The lesson covers subject areas across the curriculum, from science (acoustics of the voice and cello), to language arts (deciphering words in foreign languages that relate to English, storytelling, and descriptive vocabulary) and history (biography of the composer, historical context of the music). The lesson culminates with a participatory improvised performance by the students and an optional grade-appropriate writing activity.

High School and College

Master Classes

The members of Les Sirènes offer master classes for high school or university-level students. We teach instrument-specific (voice, cello, harpsichord) classes, or work together as an ensemble coaching chamber groups. We frequently focus on style and interpretation of music from the Baroque era, but can also work with students on repertoire from any period, and with all aspects of performance.

Community or High School

Lecture-Concerts

To educate audiences and increase interest for upcoming concerts, Les Sirènes presents 30-45 minute lecture-concerts incorporating excerpts from our current touring program with an interactive discussion and demonstration. These lecture-concerts can be given at community centers, schools, and other venues (harpsichord required for full ensemble).
